The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 12-22, 27 and 28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Petyaev (WO 03/017992).

Petyaev discloses the treatment of atherosclerosis with a combination of azithromycin and a metal chelator such as aspirin (page 10). Since atherosclerosis is associated with a disorder of lipid metabolism, the method disclosed by Petyaev includes the treatment of patients with a disorder of lipid metabolism.

Applicant's arguments filed September 11, 2007 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant contends that Petyaev discloses the treatment of atherosclerosis conditions through the inhibition of anti-Chlamydia abzymes. This argument has not been found persuasive. Atherosclerosis is well known to be associated with a disorder of lipid metabolism such as hypercholesterolemia. See, for example, U.S. Patent No. 4,175,130 which teaches in column 4, lines 41-46 that drugs having hypolipidemic activity are useful for the treatment of atherosclerosis. Also see U.S. Patent No. 4,343,818, which teaches in column 1, lines 61-63 that drugs acting upon the lipid metabolism have been used for the treatment of atherosclerosis. Thus the patients with atherosclerosis disclosed by Petyaev include patients with a disorder of lipid metabolism. Since the treatment of the same patients with the same composition would inherently produce the same result, the claimed methods are still anticipated by Petyaev.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
